We are building a new job board type of website.). The entire site will be built on WordPress using themes and plugins The site purpose is for employers can register and post their jobs and search for existing resumes matching for their jobs etc etc. Similarly the candidates can also register, search and apply for those jobs. I want a tester to test a job board type of website. For example, naukri or monster etc. Where there are many functionalities for Employers & Candidates . For example Employers will have features like Job posting, Job listing, Candidate short listing, resume viewing & searching etc. Candidate will have functionality like to search for jobs, apply for a job etc. And the whole website will have Job listing etc. For example see some websites like this : https://careers.electronicsforu.com. it has in the top navigation, Hot jobs-> Jobs by category, location, registration, login , payment gateway for employers when they post the job etc . And in the middle of the page job listing and on the side bar it lists all the categories of different jobs. and featured jobs and recent jobs also possible. Also the email communication, whenever some action is going on the site like any new employer or candidate registers the emails or going or not. Or whether the payment is successful or not etc..I need some one who can test all these features and functionality of different roles like Employer, Candidates, Admin (for doing back end operations like posting job himself, report generation, etc. PLEASE QUOTE ONLY IF YOU HAVE A PRIOR EXPERIENCE OF TESTING ANY JOB PORTAL OR JOB BOARD. Thank you
